In Memoriam

President's Report

President's Report.

(This is a copy of the President's Report delivered at the Neerlandia AGM). 2016 has been an extraordinary year for us all and I guess that this year will go into Neerlandia's history as the great change in our Club.

Your resilience, your enthusiasm and your resolve during this year of change, are a grand example of the get-up and go attitude that so characterizes the Dutch (and for the few of you who aren't of Dutch heritage – you too!).

I would like to thank you all for the enormous effort that you made to make the move from 230 Cambridge Street to the Rhein Donau Club the success that it has proved to be.

Looking back, many memorable moments come to mind. However, the most prominent memory is that of the 2016 summer break, when a small group of volunteers assisted Committee Members to vacate the premises at 230 Cambridge Street.

It is nearly impossible to imagine what a mammoth task this appeared to be. It took a great deal of time to vacate the property and although the interest of Club Members in Neerlandia memorabilia was remarkably little, we did manage to find a good home for the various items. Historical items are safely stored in the RDC building.

The property came on the market late 2015 and after a time of long and complicated negotiations, I am happy to advise you that our former Clubhouse at 230 Cambridge Street has now been sold.

As we have not settled as yet, we can't reveal the final figure, but we can confirm that it has been sold in excess of 2 million dollars, including GST. Henry will go into more detail when we get to the Financial Report.

The success of our Club and its sub-Clubs depends on Memberships. At the start of this year, the Membership renewals were very slow. A lot of Members were uncertain about the new location of the Clubhouse.

However, gradually, the opinions on the move to the Rhein Donau Club varied from "it's not that bad" to "we should have done this earlier".

Now, seven months after the move, everyone is content with the pleasant atmosphere and the comfort that the new Clubhouse provides and the excellent meals that are prepared by the RD Club's restaurant.

The Dutch Singers are very happy as well in their new environment at the Windmills Club in Morley. Their private Clubroom is a prime example how recycled effects can create a cosy and welcoming atmosphere.

When we look at the Membership numbers we can state that most sub-Clubs grew in numbers, which has had a positive result on the overall Neerlandia Membership. And it pleases the Committee to see that Members, who first thought not to move from Wembley to Myaree, then later in the year decided to come and join us again.

And where we lost some Members due to the travelling distance from home to the new Clubhouse, we gained new Members from South of the River.

The Maas & Waal Borrel, formerly known as End of Month Drinks, has brought in a lot of new people and Members too; families who appreciate the opportunity to visit the Club on those Friday nights to have a drink and a meal to start the weekend. The M&WBorrel functions have proven to be as successful a tool to gain new Members as the End of Month Drinks used to be and the newly introduced "Winkel Wieg", that stores non-perishable Dutch Goods, is a fun fund raiser.

The UNDER OFFER sticker has been replaced with a SOLD one.

President's Report & Ditjes and Datjes

All in all we are currently enjoying a Membership of 353 in comparison with 392 at the same time last year. You will have to agree with us that, considering the upheaval of the move, this trend is a very encouraging one for us.

In May our Magazine was published in full colour, which was the Committee's first initiative to do something extra for our Members. I would like to take this opportunity to say a special thank-you to Piet Leeftang, Editor of our Magazine, which standard is beyond that of most Club Magazines. The Committee chose to invest in the Magazine as the Magazine keeps all Members involved and informed of our Club life.

The colour version of the Magazine was the first initiative and once the property has settled and the money is "in the bank" so to speak, the Committee can start subsidising the various sub-Clubs and Neerlandia Members so that we can all celebrate and enjoy, that a new era has approached. Together with representatives of most sub-Clubs we are looking at the best way to have the Neerlandia Members enjoy the proceeds of the sale, yet guaranteeing a safe financial future for the Club. At the same time, sponsorship will only occur once the Committee has gained external financial advice how to deal with the proceeds of the sale in the most tax effective- and beneficial way. We would like to stress though, that based on our Constitution and also dictated by the Associations Incorporation Act 2015, only financial Neerlandia Members will be able to enjoy this financial subsidy. It is therefore imperative for the sub-Clubs to make sure that all their Members are financial at the start of the new Club year, which will be 1st February 2017.

In reference to the Constitution, a big part of the coming years will be spent on re-writing the Neerlandia Constitution. The Department of Commerce, the Governmental Organisation that overlooks the implementation and legalities of each Club's Constitution, has written new rules that will have to be implemented by September 2019. A sub-Committee is working on the new Constitution and once the new concept Constitution has been written it will be presented to the Neerlandia Members for acceptance.

All in all it has been a big year for all of us and an equally big year lies ahead of us. We are now, again, on the brink of a new stage in Neerlandia's history, which we expect to be bright and cheerful.

Today I am stepping down as President of Neerlandia to make space for the next generation. I feel that I have achieved what I set out to achieve: A continuation of the Dutch Society "Neerlandia" WA in a new Society environment. Neerlandia is fortunate enough to have Committee Member Eric van Waaijenburg as an enthusiastic candidate with passion for the Club and with a contemporary vision of how to run our Club and to keep it alive for many generations to come. I am looking forward to assist him while I will concentrate on the Marketing and the Promotion side of our Club.

In finishing I would like to thank you all for your support, your words and all your thoughts and stories that you shared with me while I was President. It has not always been easy, yet I am pleased that I got involved with the Dutch Community in Perth.

I now ask you to support Eric van Waaijenburg and his team in the same way that you supported me.

My wish for the coming years is for the Neerlandia Members and the Committee to have unity of purpose and to keep working together to have and to keep a sustainable location in Perth where we can celebrate our cultural heritage. Thank you.

Lianna Parker, President.

Kapucijnerschotel Recipe -- Dutch Captain's Dinner.

This hearty winter dish, which goes by the hard-to-pronounce name "Kapucijnerschotel", is sometimes called Captain's Dinner, because it was a typical meal served to Dutch sea captains on the long voyages of the Dutch East Indies Company (VOC). Legumes and salted meats could survive the damp holds of the ships, but were still a treat compared with the unpalatable hardtack rations doled out to the rest of the crew.

The story goes that "Kapucijners", a Dutch variety of the grey pea, were named for the greyish-brown habits of the Capuchin order of monks (the very same order that gave its name to the common cappuccino). Because "Kapucijners" are a type of grey pea unique to the Netherlands, they can be hard to find elsewhere, but are well worth seeking out.

Availability: Tins of Kapucijners are available in Perth at the Dutch Retail Outlets.

Ingredients for the Kapucijnerschotel:

- 4 oz (100 g) bacon, diced.
- 4 shallots, thinly sliced.
- 1 leek, thinly sliced.
- 1 apple, diced.
- 10 oz (285 g) ground beef.
- 1 tsp paprika powder.
- 1/2 tsp ground cumin seeds.
- 1/2 tsp ground coriander seeds.
- 19 oz (540 g) canned cooked Kapucijner peas, drained.
- Salt and pepper to taste.

Preparation:

Crisp the bacon in a large, dry frying pan or skillet. Remove the bacon from the pan and allow to drain on a paper towel. Now add the shallots, apple and leek to the frying pan and allow to caramelize in the bacon fat. Add the spices and the ground beef and cook until golden brown.

Toss in the drained "Kapucijner" peas and mix well. Once the peas have heated through, reduce the heat and season to taste.

Remove the pan from the stove and spoon the Captain's Dinner into bowls.

Tips:

When serving a crowd, it's customary to serve the Captain's Dinner Condiments in little bowls, so that everyone at the table can help themselves and customize the dish to their taste.

To serve: Sour cream, Piccalilli, Freshly torn parsley leaves and Chopped red onion.

The Boekhoek. Dolfje Weerwolfje.

Dear children of all ages.

I would like to share with you a little book that I stumbled upon in a DVD shop in the Netherlands. You probably wonder why would they sell this book in a DVD shop?

Well the case is this, it's a book with five short stories about "Dolfje Weerwolfje" written by children. In this book you will also find a DVD of the movie "Dolfje Weerwolfje", it's a movie of the original first book written by Paul van Loon.

Now, what am I going to review, the original book, the movie or the five short stories?

Let's discuss "Dolfje Weerwolfje" himself.

"Dolfje Weerwolfje" discovers he is actually a

"Weerwolf" at the age of seven. He is desperate to keep this a secret from his family, as he is afraid his family doesn't want him any more.

He finds it's not easy to keep this a secret, as it is full moon once a month, which triggers his transformation.

"Dolfje Weerwolfje" is cute and cuddly, he is more afraid of his own special powers than the people around him are afraid of him.

This insecurity "Dolfje Weerwolfje" is facing, in a sense, reflects the insecurity that many of us and the children in particular are facing. These insecurities could arise by the many changes happening in our and our children's lives.

One of those changes or challenges could be for instance, if our children have one foot on Australian soil and the other foot on Dutch soil and are confused which to call home. For this reason many people relate well to "Dolfje Weerwolfje" and that makes him a loveable and inspirational character. That also explains why the book series of "Dolfje Weerwolfje" now has 16 different stories, a regular magazine, theatre releases and of course the "Dolfje Weerwolfje" movie.

Machiel.

Another step forward. The Dutch Club Neerlandia is now mentioned on the main RDC Board.

Being Dutch & Stuff Dutch People Like

Being Dutch is a column written by Antoinetta. This Dutch lady currently lives with her English husband in Canada and explains to foreigners what it is to Being Dutch. We hope that you enjoy her columns as much as we do.

Een bakkie doen. A cup of coffee with a biscuit. When you visit Dutch people at home, 9 out of 10 times you will get a cup of coffee offered with “one” biscuit. The biscuits are often kept fresh in a round or square tin (koek-trommel). In the Horeca (food/drink industry) they will most likely serve a cup of coffee with a biscuit on the saucer. The Dutch use the phrase: “Een bakkie doen!!”, which literally mean: “Doing a cup of coffee?” A “bakkie” is slang for a cup of coffee. What it actually means is: “Let’s get together soon and chit chat”!

Neerlandia’s Winkel Wieg only at the M&WB.

“Stuff Dutch People Like” is a column written by an Australian correspondent living in the Netherlands. This amusing column observes the Dutch in their everyday life. We hope that you enjoy reading “Stuff Dutch People Like” as much as we do.

How could we possibly expect to make a list of stuff Dutch people like and not include this perplexing little guttural-sounding word at the top of the list! You will quickly learn that Dutch people love this word. They are fiercely proud of this word and all it represents. I would go as far to say that “gezelligheid” is the modern day religion of the Dutch. They love it, they need it and they respect it.

In fact, Dutch folk are going to ask you over and over again if you know what “gezellig” means. Once you do know it’s meaning, they are then going to ask you over and over again if you know how to pronounce it.

Learn to love it too, because you won’t escape it (or its pronunciation) and you will soon see that “gezelligheid” truly is all around you.

For those of you not yet knowing what “gezellig” means, let’s get one thing straight: This word has NO accurate English translations. Yes, it’s a sad fact my friends, but it’s true. People will try and try again to tell you that it means cosy... or quaint... or familiar... or friendly... or a nice atmosphere... or a fun time, but you get where this is going; no one word can really sum it up.

“Gezellig” and “gezelligheid” are less about a word and more about a feeling. Yes, this is starting to sound all chakras-and-healing-crystals to you, but truthfully, “gezellig(heid)” can only really be felt. Things do get even trickier to comprehend, because Dutch people tend to evaluate everything on its particular level of “gezelligheid”. A place can be “gezellig”, a room can be “gezellig”, a person can be “gezellig”, an evening can be “gezellig”; even childbirth can be rated by its “gezelligness” (my doctor once told me she preferred home births, simply because they were, well... just more “gezellig”)! But as we all know, there are two sides to every coin.

True to its form, meet “ongezellig, gezellig’s” nasty twin brother. Again, “ongezellig” is a precise astute word like no other. “Let’s get out of this place, it’s just so ongezellig” can sum it up like nobody else can.

I’ll never forget taking an impromptu boat ride with a friend of mine and her family. After an hour spin and a stop by a canal-side restaurants for a nibble, we docked the boat as her 3-years old Dutch son turned to me, clasped his hands together and sighed while saying: “Ge-zel-lig”!

Truth be told, it was the only word that accurately summed up our day. And even a 3 year-old knew it.

The Duyfken 1606 replica has arrived in Mandurah and the mail has been delivered.

The Duyfken will also be part of the tall ships flotilla, taking 9 weeks to sail from Fremantle to Shark Bay. During the voyage it is calling in at the ports of Bunbury, Mandurah, Hillarys, Jurien Bay, Dongara and Geraldton.

At each port the Duyfken will be open for schoolchildren and members of the general public to come aboard and to discover the challenges experienced by the Dutch while sailing from the Netherlands some 400 years ago.

The life of Dirk Hartog (1580—1621)

Dirk Hartog (1580-1621), mariner, was baptized on 30 October 1580 in the Oude Kerk (Old Church), Amsterdam, the Netherlands, second son and one of at least four children of Hartych Krynen, mariner, and his wife Griet Jans. On 20 February 1611, in the Old Church, Dirk married with Calvinist forms 18-year-old Meynsgen Abels. They are not known to have had children. At a time when Dutch spellings were not standardized, his name was variously spelled, including Hartogszoon, Hartogsz, Hartoogs, Hatichs and Hertoghsz as his surname, and Dirck or Dirick as his first name. He signed his name (in several extant documents) as Dyrck Hartoocz. In Australian history, however, he has become known as Dirk Hartog. By 1615 Hartog had engaged on voyages to various European ports as the owner and skipper of a small trading vessel, the Dolphyn (Dolphin). In 1616 he was appointed to the Vereenigde Oost-Indische Compagnie (United East India Co.) as skipper of the Eendracht (Concord) on its maiden voyage to the East Indies (Indonesia). It sailed from Texel on 23 January, carrying ten money chests containing 80,000 reals (pieces-of-eight), valued at about 200,000 guilders. The weather was bitterly cold and immediately before sailing twenty-one crewmembers and eight soldiers deserted by walking ashore over sea ice.

The Eendracht reached the Cape of Good Hope on 5 August 1616 and left on 27 August, following the newly adopted 'Brouwer' route, which directed V.O.C. ships to sail east across the Indian Ocean for a 1000 Dutch miles (c.7400 km), before heading north to the Sunda Strait. Longitude could then be estimated only very approximately, however, and it was inevitable that a V.O.C. navigator would eventually sail too far east and come upon the west coast of Australia. Hartog was the first to do so. On 25 October 1616 members of the Eendracht's crew landed at the north end of what is now known as Cape Inscription on Dirk Hartog Island. They left a record of their visit inscribed on a flattened pewter plate, nailed to an oak post and placed upright in a fissure on the cliff top. The inscription on the plate may be translated as:

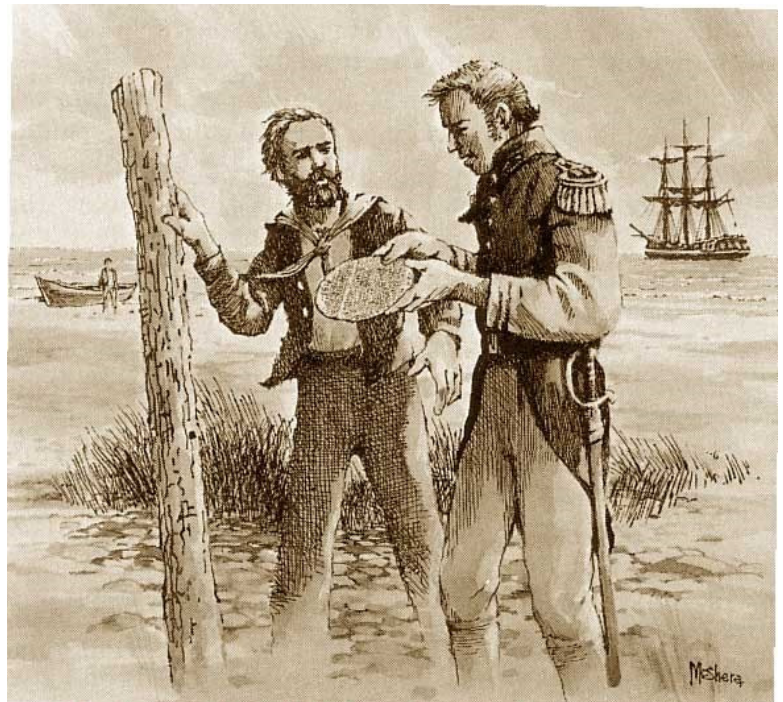

1616, 25 October, is here arrived the ship the Eendracht of Amsterdam, the upper-merchant Gillis Miebaais of Liege, skipper Dirck Hatichs of Amsterdam; the 27th ditto set sail again for Bantam, the under-merchant Jan Stins, the uppersteersman Pieter Dookes van Bill, Anno 1616.

On 14 December the Eendracht reached Macassar (Ujung Pandang), where a confrontation with local inhabitants resulted in the deaths of fifteen of its men. Hartog then visited other trading centres in the East Indies, delivering chests of money. Still under his command, the Eendracht left Bantam (Banten) on 17 December 1617, carrying a rich cargo of benzoin (an aromatic wax used for medicinal purposes), silk and other goods. The ship reached Zeeland in the Netherlands on 16 October 1618.

Leaving V.O.C. employment, Hartog skippered the Geluckige Leeu (Lucky Lion) on voyages to European ports. He died in 1621, in Amsterdam, and was buried on 11 October in the grounds of the Nieuwe Kerk (New Church). His remains were later removed to a communal grave in a field outside the city.

The Eendracht plate remained where it had been placed until 2 February 1697, when men of Willem de Vlamingh's expedition found it lying beside a decayed post. Vlamingh replaced it with another flattened pewter plate, inscribed with a copy of the text on the old plate and a record of his own visit, and nailed it to a new post. He took the Eendracht plate to Batavia (Jakarta); from there it was transferred to the V.O.C.'s archives in the Netherlands and later to the Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam. It is the oldest known record of a landing by Europeans in Australia.

Hartog's discovery had a major impact on world cartography. Although Willem Jansz had charted the west coast of Cape York Peninsula some ten years earlier, that land was generally regarded as an extension of New Guinea. After Hartog's discovery, the mythical continent known as Terra Australis Incognita (the Unknown South Land) was replaced on maps by a major landmass called 't Landt van de Eendracht (the Land of the Eendracht). Later discoveries extended charts of its coastline and the continent was later renamed Hollandia Nova (New Holland) by the Dutch and was called Australia by the British.

Neerlandia AGM & The Maas & Waal Report

TREASURER'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS AT THE 2016 AGM.

My report this year will be brief. Our last major function for the period was the Xmas Carols held in December '15, from then on little income was received other than from the sale of sundry plant and left over items of the Shop, and Bottles or Bar stock. Most disposed of at cost or below.

The Premises were in Lock-Down from mid-January onwards, whilst our Tenants, Dutch Aged Care, cleared their section and moved to their new location in East Victoria Park.

Our expenses were slightly up on the previous term, Advertising and Promotion included the costs of Marketing and Signage paid to the Real Estate Company of $ 7500.00. Both Council and Water Rates are up and will continue to do so. A new charge is the Rental paid to Rhein Donau Club, providing accommodation to our sub groups since February 6, this rental of $1200.00 per month plus GST, will be reviewed each year. The net operational Loss for the year is $34,238, up by approx. $19,000 from last year. Income dropped by $18,500 and expenses up by $3,000.

Sundry income up by $2,500, mainly due to sale of Sundry Plant and Equipment.

As the property was marketed as vacant possession, furniture & equipment and crockery and utensils was written off as depreciation of $27,424 to a total loss of $61,662.

The property was listed for Sale during Sept '15, an option to purchase was accepted in December '15, to expire in August '16, to provide sufficient time for the purchaser in pursuing development with the Town of Cambridge. A deposit of $20,000 was paid by the Buyer, with $17,000 retained as nonrefundable, part was refunded to allow a second buyer to submit another offer, which is currently being processed. We live in hope as our real estate market is continuing to fall.

Editor's Note: The present situation is that the Cambridge Clubhouse has definitely been sold, but settlement has not taken place as yet.

Neerlandia AGM at the Rhine Donau Club. Fifty Members attended and they witnessed a changing of the guard with more younger people elected on the Committee.

Tony Horsten and Henry Koldenhoven both received a Neerlandia Life Membership at the AGM for long and faithful services to the Dutch Society Neerlandia.

The August Maas & Waal Borrel.

This was held on the 26th of August. It was a miserable wet evening with severe gales expected in the evening and overnight. So it was no wonder that only about 45-50 people showed up. Amongst those were several newcomers and some that we had not seen for a while.

That is the good thing about the Maas & Waal Borrel Night. It is not a Club you have to attend regularly, but a social gathering of Dutch people with a mixture of older Neerlandia Members and relatively newcomers with their children and of course a sprinkling of Dutch Backpackers. Initially, what they come in for, is to meet other Dutch people in a "Gezellige" atmosphere.

This is where Neerlandia Committee Members and our two lovely hostesses come in. They make newcomers welcome, give them a Neerlandia Magazine and a Membership form and then try to convince them, that they should sign up as a Neerlandia Member not only to guarantee the club's future, but also to participate in suitable other events.

Does it work? Of course it does! If it was not for the ongoing recruiting campaign at the Maas & Waal Borrel Night (previously at the EoMD), the Neerlandia Membership would most probably be 25-35% less than what it presently is.

Sunday Drive & Card Club Neerlandia Results

September Sunday Drive Report.

Our Sunday Klaverjas Drive was held on the 2nd Sunday of September rather than on the 1st Sunday, as that was Fathers Day.

This was probably the reason that some of our regular players were absent. They must have overlooked this fact, despite it being announced in our Neerlandia Magazine.

This is the only way that we can inform our Members of Special Events.

Apart from the absence of those Members we were happy to welcome another new player Nel van den Aakster. We hope that she will continue to support our Sunday Drives in the future. We counted 23 attendees, making up 5 playing tables while Thea Gorter, Gerry Creemers and myself were prepared to sit out during play and were able to discuss the upcoming Sunday Drive for October.

We came to the conclusion that the October Sunday Drive should be cancelled in view of the Rhein Donau Club celebrating their annual October Fest. Especially after Saturday evenings, when festivities continue well into the night. The RDC president also had advised us to cancel the event as she could not guarantee the health status of any of the facilities at the club as the cleaners would not be available before our Sunday Drive. As well their chef Rudi was unavailable to prepare our lunches on the day.

Consequently we considered it best to forget about our Sunday drive for October and we are looking forward to an extra-large attendance at our November drive to be held on 6th of November.

Let me once again point out that we wish to make our Sunday drives attractive to non-klaverjas players as well. Anyone, who plays another game with their friends like bridge, joker, even rummy cup, are very welcome to join us, as long as they bring their regular friends along to make up a table.

We can assure you that once you visit and enjoy an excellent lunch prepared by chef Rudi, you won't miss any future Sunday drive again. Hope to see you on the 6th of November.

The winners of our September Sunday drive were:

1 st prize $20	Frieda Hovingh	6775 points
2 nd prize $15	Barbara Penello	6673 points
3 rd prize $10	Ron Bouwman	6658 points.

Our congratulations to the winners and we wish all other players success in future Sunday drives.

Winners of the September Sunday Drive.

A special thank you to Pieter Leeftang, who provided us with a nice supply of scoresheets. Thanks Pieter for your kind donation.

Hope to see you all at our November Sunday Drive to be held on 6th of November and looking forward to seeing many new faces,

Murray Koedyk.

Thursday Night Card Club Neerlandia.

Our 2nd competition for this year concluded on the 25th August.

Prizes for the Klaverjas players were presented on 1st September to the following winners:

1st Prize: $20 Frieda Hovingh with 71357 points

2nd Prize: $15 Piet Segers with 70524 points

Marsen Prize: $10 Piet Leeftang with 27 marsen

Average Score: $5 Joost den Haan with 67763 points. (actual average 67769)

Congratulations to our prize winners and of course, commiserations to the other players, wishing them better luck in our 3rd and last competition for this year.

Klaverjas Competition winners. Piet Segers: 2nd Prize; Joost de Haan: Average prize; Freda Hovingh: 1st Prize and Piet Leeftang: Marsen Prize. (The Bolivia players were not present).

The Prize winners of the Bolivia tables are selected in turn:

Weekly group $15 Gerry Creemers
Fortnightly group $15 Thea Bloks

Unfortunately, neither group was in attendance at the prizes presentation. If it was due to ill health we offer the sufferers a speedy recovery, hoping to see you again at our next meeting.

This 2nd competition has not been without some setbacks. Our much loved Klaverjas Member, Corry van Os, sadly passed away and we offer our sympathy to her family. May she rest in peace. In addition, we lost another Klaverjas player because the uneven number of players usually resulted in finishing later than usual. We now count exactly 12 Klaverjas Players just enough for 3 tables, while the Bolivia groups hold their own with 8 players.

Naturally, we would like to welcome some more keen card players to join our happy group every Thursday evening from 7.30pm to around 10.30pm. In particular we are looking for additional Klaverjas players, who don't realise what a wonderful weekly evening they are missing out on. There must be many of you, who probably still play the game with friends at home. Why not make it an evening out with them and join us in the Karl's Bar at The Rhein Donau Club, North Lake Road, Myaree. Please be assured we will make you very welcome at your first visit, which I am sure will then not be your last. Looking forward to seeing you soon,
Murray Koedyk.

Rubber gloves.

A dentist noticed that his next patient, a little old lady, was nervous, so he decided to tell her a little joke as he put on his gloves.

'Do you know how they make these gloves?' he asked.

'No, I don't,' she replied.

'Well,' he spoofed, 'there's a building in Canada with a big tank of latex, and workers of all hand sizes walk up to the tank, dip in their hands, let them dry, then peel off the gloves and throw them into boxes of the right size.'

She didn't crack a smile.

'Oh, well, I tried,' the Dentist thought.

But five minutes later, during a delicate portion of the procedure, she burst out laughing.

'What's so funny?' he asked.

'I was just envisioning how condoms are made!' (Gotta watch those little old ladies! Their minds are working in funny ways!)

Missing Wife.

The wife has been missing a week now.

The police called in and said to prepare for the worst.

So I have been to the Op-Shop to get all her clothes back.

Gedichtje voor dames & heren (in Dutch).

Toen de eerste rimpels kwamen was ik in paniek, ik liet mijn face toen liften in een prijzige kliniek.

Nou, mijn man vond het fantastisch, mijn gezicht was weer elastisch.

Niks geen rimpels, niks geen vouwen, net zo glad als bij ons trouwen.

Tot mijn man zei: 'het is misschien gek... maar jouw kop past niet meer bij je nek'.

Ach, een kleine ingreep, ze trekken iets wat strak, geven hier een sneetje, anders krijg je daar een zak.

Nou, mijn man was heel tevreden, over wat ze met me deden.

De chirurg zat met mijn borsten in z'n maag, want nu zaten die volgens hem veel te laag.

Toen ze waren opgehesen, leken ze wat klein, maar met siliconenvulling mochten ze er best zijn.

Nou, ik zag mijn man ontvlammen, want ik had dus zulke prammen.

Toen op een avond na het vrijen, keek hij peinzend naar mijn dijen.

En al had ie geen duidelijke kritiek, ik ging toch weer terug naar de kliniek.

Ik had trouwens ook een buikje, dus na wat overleg, liet ik dat ontvetten, ze zuigen dat in no-time weg.

Om tegelijkertijd mijn billen, minstens zo'n stuk op te tillen.

Ik was op ieder feestje weer in tel, maar zat wel heel strak in mijn vel.

Mijn man was niet meer zo op zijn gemak, op straat riepen jongens: 'Ga je lekker ouwe zak'!!

Nou, toen kocht ie een toupetje, en een veel te strak korsetje.

Hij ging wandelen en trimmen, en in het fitnesscentrum gymmen.

En maandenlang volgde hij een rigoureuus dieet, tot hij zonder reden in de sauna overleed!!

Daar stond ik op het kerkhof mooi om aan te zien aan zijn graf, maar nu hij erin lag was de aardigheid eraf.

Nu laat ik de kwabben zwellen, en ik zal u wat vertellen...

Dames, laat je niet verlakken, laat de boel toch rustig zakken.

Met gladgestreken nekken, valt het leven niet te rekken!

Koester buik en onderkinnen, echte schoonheid zit van binnen!

(Overgenomen uit "de Nieuwsgier" Van de Cairns Dutch Club).

Quick Thinking.

A man in Newcastle walked into the produce section of his local supermarket and asked to buy half a head of lettuce. The boy working in that department told him that they only sold whole heads of lettuce.

The man was insistent that the boy ask the manager about the matter.

Walking into the back room, the boy said to the manager,

"Some old bastard outside wants to buy half a head of lettuce."

As he finished his sentence, he turned around to find that the man had followed and was standing right behind him, so the boy quickly added, "and this gentleman kindly offered to buy the other half."

The manager approved the deal and the man went on his way.

Later, the manager said to the boy.....

"I was impressed with the way you got yourself out of that situation earlier, we like people who can think on their feet here, where are you from son?"

"New Zealand, sir," the boy replied.

"Why did you leave New Zealand?" the manager asked.

The boy said: "Sir, there's nothing but very loose women and rugby players there."

"Is that right?" replied the manager, "My wife is from New Zealand!"

"Really?" replied the boy, "Who did she play for?"

Dirk Hartog Island

Dirk Hartog Island is an island off the Gascoyne coast of Western Australia, within the Shark Bay World Heritage Area.

It is about 80 kilometres long and between 3 and 15 kilometres wide and is Western Australia's largest and most western island. It covers an area of 620 square kilometres.

1616 Dirk Hartog arrives:

It was named after Dirk Hartog, a Dutch Sea Captain, who first encountered the Western Australian coastline close to the 26th parallel south latitude, which runs through the island. Hartog announced his 1616 arrival on the island by nailing an inscribed pewter plate to a wooden post at the site now known as Cape Inscription. A replica of the dish can be seen at the nearby Shark Bay World Heritage Discovery and Visitor Centre. Hartog gave the Australian mainland one of its earliest known names, as Eendrachtsland, which he named after his ship Eendracht, meaning "Unity".

Dirk Hartog Island — WA's biggest island — offers visitors a peaceful retreat. The West side of the Island has spectacular cliffs, which are often pounded by huge seas, while the other side has spectacular and secluded, white sandy beaches.

Spectacular Cliffs.

Experience cliff fishing, diving, snorkeling, swimming and walking in an environment of diverse vegetation and fauna. The island has experienced significant changes over the past four centuries, particularly in recent times while being grazed by sheep and goats.

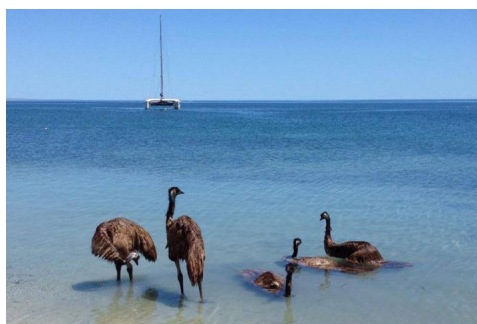

Return to 1616, is a project aiming to restore the vegetation and habitats of Dirk Hartog Island National Park, to how Hartog would have seen them. Sheep and goats changed the vegetation, while efficient new predators, feral cats, added to the pressures on native species, leading to the local extinction of several species of small mammals. Return to 1616 has seen the removal of sheep and most of the goats, along with cat eradication. When the cats are gone, animals that couldn't survive the changes brought by introduced species, will be returned to the island.

Dirk Hartog Island is about eight hours drive north of Perth and can be accessed privately by four-wheel-drive by using the car-barge, or on a day tour by speedboat. Campers in the national park need to be self-sufficient. Costs are as little as $19 per adult per night.

Island Leasehold:

The leasehold for the island was acquired by the Withnell brothers from Messrs Moore and Meade in 1907. The island was regarded as an ideal place for a sheep station as there was no danger of rabbit invasion. In 1909 it was carrying a flock of about 12,000 sheep and produced approximately 400 bales of wool. The property was still owned by John and James Withnell, the children of John and Emma Withnell, who were early settlers in the Pilbara.

Perth Lord Mayor Sir Thomas Wardle purchased the island as a private retreat for his family in about 1969 and later retired there, becoming a semi-recluse with his wife. With the exception of the pastoral homestead, the island later returned to government ownership and became part of the Shark Bay Marine Park. It is now run as an eco-tourism resort and maintained by Wardle's grandson,

CODEBREAKER PUZZLE

A Codebreaker is a crossword puzzle with no clues! Every letter of the alphabet has been replaced by a number.

For this puzzle only the first two letters are revealed. Start with entering these letters throughout the puzzle first and then start guessing your first word.

If you are unsure, use a pencil to start, then if it does not work out you can erase and start again.

The last Codebreaker was a bit easier and once you found the word "Accost". Then you needed the words "Isotope and Fiasco", after which you were well on the way to solve it.

The letter code for last month's Codebreaker was:

A=26; B=19; C=2; D=13;
E=14; F=15; G=10; H=4; I=3;
J=6; K=17; L=5; M=18; N=25;
